	Mr. Ramis overviewed the philosophy for services provided by his firm. He noted how the partners and staff in the firm keep each other informed about projects and Meeting

General Legal	Mr. Ramis advised of efforts by the firm to Counsel	promote cost containment, which include Candidates	having City staff do first drafts of Continued	documents and then submit for a review by one of the attorneys. He noted that over the past ten years the trend has been to reduce the number of hours of legal services provided.
	Mr. Ramis said that he views legal services as a capital investment and referred to building a legal infrastructure with a systemic approach rather than dealing with issues on a case-by-case basis.	- Mr. Ramis responded to questions by the interview panel; highlights of his responses follow:
	 Expectations for turn around are established at the initial contact.
,	The legal question is turned over to the lawyer who has the expertise for the issue under review.
	Members of his firm meet weekly to •	determine assignment status, whether more follow up is needed, or if this is a	: deeper issue.	}
	Efforts are made to have legal staff available or to have coverage to provide service.
	 Attorneys meet quarterly with the City Manager to determine if needs are being met.
	Preventive initiatives exercised early to avoid litigation.
	Address issues early: prepare good findings (land use), raise a caution flag	ļ for procedural practices if needed, Tigard City Counci	assess and advise on risk, track changes

Special	in the Code to respond to challenges,
Meeting	keep the Code up to date.
General Legal	 Noted successes in litigation: Rogers
Counsel	Machinery, Martin case, and Media
Candidates	Arts.
Continued	 If Ramis' firm is selected as the City's legal counsel, the firm will undertake a legal audit of the Tigard Code, at their expense, to determine what changes should be implemented.
	 Legal staff also would train City staff on issues of concern.
	 Discussed review of case law and new legislation to keep current.
	 Suggested codifying additional procedures; i.e., elections.
	 Annexation process in 2004 did not go well. Mr. Ramis said he what he learned from this was to be more proactive in communications with the other lawyer and, while this had been	j
•	reviewed by many lawyers, they should have looked at the statute one more `	time.
	 Costs will continue to increase; cost containment efforts will include efficiency and charge a competitive rate.
	 Noted that his firm has seldom lost cases on procedural grounds; rather, they have often won cases because procedures were followed.
	 Referred to alternative forms of resolution of issues, including mediation.

3. Update – Insurance Coverage and Marketing	Risk Manager Mills and Agent of Record Cutter reviewed current insurance coverage and ongoing market negotiations. The City currently participates in the City/County Insurance Services program.
4. Discussion – Police Accreditation	Police Chief Dickinson presented information on accreditation. The Police Department enjoys the status of being professionally accredited; however, some cities are now questioning the benefit when considering the costs of maintaining accreditation. Accreditation must be reviewed and renewed on a three-year basis. The Police Department is in favor of accreditation, but understands fiscal realities for costs/benefits.	After discussion City Council consensus was for the Police Chief to poll the police staff to determine if they support accreditation. The City Council would also like to hear from the staff why they would support accreditation.
